Graham-Field Introduces John Bunn® Disposable Respiratory Line

May 25, 2007 • Atlanta, GA:

Graham-Field Health Products is proud to introduce the Disposable Respiratory Line by John Bunn, the premier name in respiratory products for more than sixty years. John Bunn, long your source for aerosol and oxygen therapy, tubing, and convenient homecare respiratory products, is responding to the growing need for disposable respiratory products; a need created, in part, by our aging population, the escalating incidence of COPD, increasing attention to hygiene and infection control, and the expanding use of home-based treatment. John Bunn will continue to support your respiratory product needs, and as new products are introduced, you can always look to John Bunn for quality respiratory products at an affordable price.
