Graham-Field Introduces the Lumex® LumexAir™ II Low Air Loss Mattress System

August 14, 2006 • Atlanta, GA:

Graham-Field Health Products is pleased to introduce the LumexAir™ II Low Air Loss Mattress System, shown here. Thanks to its high volume blower, the LumexAir™ II is a true low air loss replacement system, providing excellent ventilation and reducing the moisture build-up that can cause skin maceration. The LumexAir™ II features AutoFirm function to inflate the mattress quickly; a vapor-permeable, fluid resistant cover; three different pressure zones—head, body, and leg—combined with six comfort level adjustments for an individual fit; a pulsation feature that provides gentle circulation-stimulating massage; slip-resistant mat and securing straps; panel lock function to prevent persons other than caregivers from changing settings; emergency CPR quick-disconnect for quick deflation; and visible and audible alarms. 396 lb. weight capacity; meets requirements of HCPCS Code E0277.

The outstanding line of Lumex® pressure management products includes alternating pressure / low air loss mattresses; mattress overlays; wheelchair cushions; and foam overlays, cushions, and positioning products.
